PUBLIC POLICY
INSTITUTE OF CALIFORNIA

I got involved with the Public Policy Institute of California because it is an organization that rises above partisan politics. Its outstanding research and programs encourage policymakers to work for a better California. The Institute promotes a common set of facts critical to a common set of solutions.

WORKING FOR CALIFORNIA'S FUTURE, TODAY

For more than 20 years, the Public Policy Institute of California has provided high-quality, nonpartisan research and analysis on critical issues—encouraging productive dialogue and inspiring the search for sustainable solutions in Sacramento and across the state.

Today, many of California's major policy initiatives—from education to corrections to climate change—are shaping the future of the state and demonstrating new ways to handle policy challenges faced by the entire nation.

At PPIC, we analyze pivotal policy decisions and their impact on California's future well-being. We provide key facts and offer timely, practical solutions to the issues most affecting the state, today and tomorrow.

Providing the right information at the right time is critical. Getting it into the right hands? Transformational. That's why we pursue multiple, ongoing engagement strategies, bringing our work to an ever-expanding audience in Sacramento and beyond.

Our efforts have changed the conversation—on both sides of the aisle—on issues ranging from water policy to higher education to corrections reform. But we can't do it alone. Support from foundations, corporations, and individuals gives us the ability to fulfill our goals for improving the future of the state.
