Do you think things in California are generally going in the right direction or the wrong direction?

Turning to economic conditions in California, do you think that during the next 12 months we will have good times financially or bad times?
Generally speaking, would you say you are very satisfied, somewhat satisfied, or not satisfied with the way the initiative process is working in California today?
Overall, how much would you say that the initiative process in California today is controlled by special interests—a lot, some, or not at all?
Problems with the initiative process

For the following items, please say if you strongly agree, somewhat agree, somewhat disagree, or strongly disagree.

- Too many propositions
- Wording is too complicated

Which comes closer to your view about how to handle undocumented immigrants who are living in the US?—There should be a way for them to stay in the country legally if certain requirements are met or they should not be allowed to stay in this country legally.
All in all, would you favor or oppose building a wall along the entire border with Mexico?

- Conclusions
Conclusions

- Hillary Clinton leads Donald Trump by a wide margin; most likely voters are not satisfied with their choice of candidates.
- Six in ten likely voters are very interested in the upcoming debates.
- Kamala Harris leads Loretta Sanchez by 7 points; one in four likely voters say they will not vote in this race.
- Californians are optimistic about the direction of the state and have positive perceptions of its elected officials—but there is a partisan divide.
- While most Californians are satisfied with the initiative process, majorities say the process is controlled by special interests.
- Most Californians say there should be a way for undocumented immigrants to stay in US legally and oppose building a wall along border.
