NOTE: In our analysis we have combined some sparsely-populated counties into groups and split some heavily-populated counties into subdivisions (according to area codes). This map key identifies the 46 “places” we have analyzed, according to the name of the county, county group, or county subdivision. For details of the area codes used to subdivide the populous counties, please contact the authors.
FROM: California’s Political Geography, PPIC, 2012.